

EIR Daily Alert Service

P.O. BOX 17390, WASHINGTON, DC 20041-0390

- Ten Principles of a New International Security and Development Architecture
- Russia Launches New Strikes on Ukraine's Energy Infrastructure
- Zelenskyy and U.S. Spokesmen Denounce Russia's Strikes on Ukraine
- No, Russia Does Not Plan To Use Nuclear Weapons in Ukraine
- For Boris Johnson, Germany Is Not Hawkish Enough
- Russian Ambassador to UN Documents Ukrainian Torture of POWs
- Talk of Russian Contact with NATO Military Committee 'Is a Fiction from Start to Finish,' Says Moscow Defense Ministry
- Lafontaine Writes That Zelenskyy Wants World War III, but We Urgently Need Peace
- India's Leading Fertilizer Supplier Is Now Russia
- EU Claims It Has Fully Replaced Russian Natural Gas Imports
- Powdered Eggs at $100 a Can? How Did That Happen
- U.S. Is Working at Refining the Definition of 'State Sponsor of Terrorism'
- Republican Majority in House Grows
- Hybrid Warfare Spook Nina Jankowicz Is Now Officially a British Foreign Agent

EDITORIAL

Ten Principles of a New International Security and Development Architecture

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Because it charts the approach needed for solving the entire crisis now facing the One Humanity, and is therefore at the center of the LaRouche movement’s activities on all fronts internationally, and requires the broadest possible study and deliberation, we reproduce below the closing section of Helga Zepp-LaRouche’s keynote to the Nov. 22 Schiller Institute conference, “Stop the Danger of Nuclear War Now; Third Seminar of Political and Social Leaders of the World”:

Helga Zepp-LaRouche: The new paradigm which will be characteristic of the new epoch, and towards which the new global security and development architecture must be directed, therefore, must eliminate the concept of oligarchism for good, and proceed to organize the political order in such a way, that the true character of humanity as the creative species can be realized.

Therefore, I suggest that the following principles must be discussed and if agreed upon be realized. These ideas are meant to be food for thought and a dialogue among all people concerned to find a basis for a world order guaranteeing the durable existence of the human species.

First: The new International Security and Development Architecture must be a partnership of perfectly sovereign nation states, which is based on the Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence and the UN Charter.

Second: The absolute priority must be to alleviate poverty in every nation on the planet, which is easily possible, if the existing technologies are being used for the benefit of the common good.

Third: The life expectancy of all people living must be prolonged to the fullest potential by creating modern health systems in every country on the planet. This is also the only way how the present and future potential pandemics can be overcome or be prevented.

Fourth: Since mankind is the only creative species known so far in the universe, and given the fact that human creativity is the only source of wealth through the potentially limitless discovery of new universal principles, one of the main aims of the new International Security and Development Architecture must be providing access to universal education for every child and adult person living. The true nature of man is to become a beautiful soul, as Friedrich Schiller discusses this, and the only person who can fulfill that condition is the genius.

Fifth: The international financial system must be reorganized, so that it can provide productive credits to accomplish these aims. A reference point can be the original Bretton Woods system, as Franklin D. Roosevelt intended it, but was never implemented due to his untimely death, and the Four Laws proposed by Lyndon LaRouche. The primary aim of such a new credit system must be to increase dramatically the living standard of especially the nations of the Global South and of the poor in the Global North.

Sixth: The new economic order must be focused on creating the conditions for modern industries and agriculture, starting with the infrastructural development of all continents to eventually be connected by tunnels and bridges to become a World Land-Bridge.

Seventh: The new global security architecture must eliminate the concept of geopolitics by ending the division of the world into blocs. The security concerns of every sovereign nation must be taken into account. Nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction must be immediately banned. Through international cooperation, the means must be developed to make nuclear weapons technologically obsolete, as it was originally intended by the proposal which became known as the SDI, suggested by LaRouche and made as an offer to the Soviet Union by President Reagan.

Eighth: In former times, one civilization at one corner of the world could go under, and the rest of the world would only find out years later, due to the length of distances and the time needed for travel. Now, for the first time, because of nuclear weapons, pandemics, the internet, and other global effects, mankind is sitting in one boat. Therefore, a solution to the existential threat to humanity cannot be found with the help of secondary or partial arrangements, but the solution must be found on the level of that higher One, which is more powerful than the Many. It requires the thinking on the level of Coincidentia Oppositorum, the Coincidence of Opposites, of Nicholas of Cusa.

Ninth: In order to overcome the conflicts arising out of quarreling opinions, which is how empires have maintained control over the underlings, the economic, social and political order has to be brought into cohesion with the lawfulness of the physical universe. In European philosophy this was discussed as the being in character with natural law, in Indian philosophy as cosmology, and in other cultures appropriate notions can be found. Modern sciences like space science, biophysics or thermonuclear fusion science will increase the knowledge of mankind about this lawfulness continuously. A similar cohesion can be found in the great works of classical art in different cultures.

Tenth: The basic assumption for the new paradigm is, that man is fundamentally good and capable to infinitely perfect the creativity of his mind and the beauty of his soul, and being the most advanced geological force in the universe, which proves that the lawfulness of the mind and that of the physical universe are in correspondence and cohesion, and that all evil is the result of a lack of development, and therefore can be overcome.

A new world economic order is emerging, involving the vast majority of the countries of the Global South. The European nations and the U.S. must not fight this effort, but by joining hands with the developing countries, cooperate to shape the next epoch of the development of the human species to become a renaissance of the highest and most noble expressions of creativity!

Let us therefore create an international movement of World Citizens, who work together to shape the next phase in the evolution of mankind, the new epoch! World Citizens of all countries, unite!

- Watch Harley's Updates with Harley Schlanger on Friday November 25, 2022: Every weekday morning on The LaRouche Organization, Schlanger will give you the strategic briefing you need to start your day.

STRATEGIC SHOWDOWN

Russia Launches New Strikes on Ukraine's Energy Infrastructure

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Both Russian and Ukrainian authorities reported yesterday that Russia had launched large-scale missile attacks targeting Ukraine's energy grid on Nov. 23, including in Kiev and elsewhere across the country. According to RT, Ukraine's national power grid operator Ukrenergo reported emergency power outages in all regions, while Kiev Mayor Vitali Klitschko said that there were explosions in various parts of the city and that water supplies had been cut off. The whole of Odessa Region is without electricity, local authorities said. And the mayor of Kharkov, Ukraine's second-largest city, reported that the subway system had been paralyzed, due to a power outage.

The interruption of electricity also forced the shutdown of the South Ukraine Nuclear Power Plant in the southern city of Nikolaev, and the Khmelnytskyi Nuclear Power Plant in western Ukraine.

At an emergency UN Security Council demanded by Zelenskyy (who did not attend) yesterday to discuss the situation, Russian Ambassador Vassily Nebenzia explained “We underscore again that we launch strikes against the Ukrainian infrastructure in retaliation for the pumping-up of Ukraine with Western weapons and the reckless calls to Kiev to win a military victory over Russia.” He further told the UNSC meeting: “Undermining the combat capability of the Ukrainian army, which threatens the security and territorial integrity of Russia, is one of the goals of our special military operation. This task will be carried out by military means until the Kiev regime adopts a realistic position that would allow to negotiate and try to resolve the issues that forced us to start the SMO.

“So far, what we have heard from Mr. Zelenskyy and his adepts can in no way be described as ‘readiness for peace,’ but rather as the language of reckless threats and ultimatums. Kiev’s Western sponsors further encourage this irresponsible stance, because the war ‘until the last Ukrainian’ to be fought on the Ukrainian territory is something they benefit from. This is how their weapons industries can receive colossal profits, and also how NATO can test its armaments. In doing so, Western states seek to establish their geopolitical hegemony by proxy at the expense of Ukrainian lives,” he concluded.

Nebenzia had also mentioned the “hysterical and absolutely untruthful” statements coming from Kiev about the Nov. 15 missile strike in Poland, when a Ukrainian S-300 missile killed two villagers in Przewodów. Yet the Western and even UN officials continue to uncritically repeat Ukrainian allegations, without evidence, he said.

He told U.S. Ambassador Linda Thomas-Greenfield, at the UNSC meeting, “Your thoughtless provision of weapons to Ukraine is already killing civilians not only in Donbas, but in Ukrainian cities and towns.”

Zelenskyy and U.S. Spokesmen Denounce Russia’s Strikes on Ukraine

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—At yesterday’s UN Security Council meeting, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy delivered a prerecorded video message accusing Russia of being a “terrorist state,” and was followed by U.S. Ambassador Linda Thomas-Greenfield, who accused Russian President Vladimir Putin of “clearly, clearly weaponizing winter” and trying to “freeze [Ukraine] into submission.” The U.S. will continue to stand with Ukraine “for long as it takes,” added Thomas-Greenfield, as Kiev fights to “defend its freedom, its sovereignty and its democracy.”

U.S. National Security Council spokeswoman Adrienne Watson went a step further in her comments. “As Russia struggles on the battlefield, it is increasingly turning to horrific attacks against the Ukrainian people with punishing strikes damaging energy grid infrastructure, and deliberately doing so as winter approaches.” She argued that this “shows Russia is willing to increase the risk of a nuclear safety incident that could not only further harm Ukraine, but affect the entire region as well.”

Russian envoy Vassily Nebenzia countered that “the residential buildings become damaged and civilians get killed on account of Ukrainian air defense systems that are deployed in centers of Ukrainian cities rather than on the outskirts. As a result, wreckage of the missiles or stray Ukrainian missiles hit the facilities that we never targeted. For example, today, Ukrainian web users posted photos of missiles that had hit residential buildings in Kiev and Vyshgorod (the Kiev Region). Those turned out to be American air defense missiles that Kiev had been supplied with. Let me draw the attention of my U.S. colleague to this. Your thoughtless provision of weapons to Ukraine is already killing civilians not only in Donbas, but in Ukrainian cities and towns.”

No, Russia Does Not Plan To Use Nuclear Weapons in Ukraine

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Russian Ambassador to the United Kingdom Andrey Kelin yesterday told BBC that the possibility of Russia using tactical nuclear weapons in Ukraine is ruled out.

“I do not envisage that in the coming weeks or days we will have serious events on the ground,” Kelin began, noting that the situation in Ukraine currently appears to be “more stabilized,” allowing Russian forces to regroup.

The ambassador stressed the “need to end the fight that started not now, not in February, but a few years ago, in 2014.”

When asked about the possibility of using Russian tactical weapons in Ukraine, Kelin said: “There is no intention. It is not a situation when nuclear weapons can be used at all,” he said. “I do believe there is no possibility that we can come to implement tactical nuclear weapons.”

Earlier this week, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov had explained that Russia is not trying to bring about a regime change in Kiev as part of its military operation. He reiterated that Moscow didn’t rule out peace negotiations with Ukraine, saying that its goals in the country could be achieved “by various methods and in various formats.” And they will be achieved eventually, Peskov assured reporters, according to RT.

For Boris Johnson, Germany Is Not Hawkish Enough

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Former British Prime Minister Boris Johnson charged in an interview with CNN Portugal on Nov. 21, whereas the U.K. always had the view that it had to help Ukraine win the war against Russia, Germany wanted an early end of the war at the expense of the Ukrainians. Some in the German mainstream media, led by Bildzeitung, have joined the side of Johnson against German Chancellor Olaf Scholz.

German government spokesman Steffen Hebestreit brusquely rejected Johnson’s claims. The “very entertaining former prime minister always had his own relationship with the truth,” he said in Berlin yesterday, adding that this case was “no different.” Johnson’s statements were “utter nonsense,” Hebestreit said in English.

For the record: At the Munich Security Conference in February, one week before the Russian military operation in Ukraine, Johnson said he was “proud” that his country had already trained 22,000 Ukrainian soldiers since the alleged Russian “annexation” of Crimea (whose population voted overwhelmingly to rejoin Russia after the illegal, Nazi coup d’état in Kiev), and had been “and, in recent months, in response to the threat, we have been among the nations to send defensive weaponry in the form of 2,000 anti-tank missiles.” Johnson claimed that a quick Russian victory against Ukraine was not likely for military reasons: “I believe that in preparing to invade Ukraine, a proud country whose armed forces now exceed 200,000 personnel, considerably more expert in combat today than in 2014, President Putin and his circle are gravely miscalculating.”

Russian Ambassador to UN Documents Ukrainian Torture of POWs

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Russian Permanent Representative to the United Nations Vassily Nebenzia told the Nov. 23 UN Security Council meeting: “The amount of evidence of the use of torture by the Ukrainian side in violation of the Geneva Conventions of 1949 is growing. The [Donetsk]

D.P.R. fighters released from captivity confirm that militants of the ultra-nationalist armed group ‘Right Sector’ execute prisoners by hanging. In the [Lugansk] L.P.R., forensic experts arrived at a conclusion that the POWs had had upper sections of their ears cut off and legs shot through before they were killed. Some Russian POWs were left lying in excavated graves under a layer of earth for as long as five hours.”

Talk of Russian Contact with NATO Military Committee ‘Is a Fiction from Start to Finish,’ Says Moscow Defense Ministry

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Euractiv published a report yesterday that there is a quiet channel of communication between NATO Military Committee Chairman Adm. Rob Bauer and Gen. Valery Gerasimov, Chief of the Russian General Staff, which is pursuing a “more moderate” approach to the Ukraine crisis, in particular around the situation in the Black Sea. That report was promptly denied by an official statement of the Russian Defense Ministry. “There have been no contacts, much less ‘systematic,’ with the chairman of the NATO Military Committee or other representatives of the North Atlantic alliance within the framework of the non-existent U.S.-Russian Crisis Commission on Conflict Resolution,” the Russian Defense Ministry said in a statement. “The published information about reaching some kind of ‘agreement’ with NATO Military Committee Chairman Rob Bauer on ‘safe vessel traffic in the Black Sea’ is a fiction from start to finish.”

Lafontaine Writes That Zelenskyy Wants World War III, but We Urgently Need Peace

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—In an article today for the German NachDenkSeiten website, former Linke Party leader Oskar Lafontaine wrote about Volodymyr Zelenskyy: “Sometimes he calls for a no-fly zone, sometimes he wants pre-emptive strikes against Moscow, sometimes he demands nuclear weapons for Ukraine. Then he claims, contrary to the truth, that the Ukrainian defensive missile that killed two Poles was fired by Russia. And now he demands that NATO protect the Russian-occupied Zaporozhye Nuclear Power Plant from sabotage. He says that NATO must do that because it would be important for the whole world.

“Even the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, which like many other mainstream media outlets is a warmonger, has now noted, ‘Zelensky wants to drag NATO into war.’

“With his constant calls for an expansion of the war, for a reconquest of Donbass and Crimea, Zelensky proves only one thing: He has long ceased to represent the Ukrainian people, the majority of whom want a ceasefire and a peace settlement, despite other claims in the propaganda press.

“Only those who do not put their own lives at risk are always drumming for war. In his famous song ‘Le Déserteur,’ French chansonnier Boris Vian wrote: “S’il faut donner son sang / Allez donner le vôtre / Vous êtes bon apôtre / Monsieur le Président.” [“If blood must be spilt/ Go spill your own/ You are a good disciple/ Mr. President.”]...

“One can be sure that many Ukrainians and Russians have similar sentiments when they think of their Presidents. This is an ancient theme, of which the poet Horace said, ‘Dulce et decorum est / Pro patria mori.’ It is sweet and proper to die for the fatherland—with such an ‘ethic’ innocent people have died on the battlefields for millennia. It is time for ceasefire and peace negotiations, because every day Ukrainians and Russians fall victim to this lying ‘war ethic.’

“P.S.: On Monday my book Ami, It’s Time To Go! Plea for the Self-Assertion of Europe (Westend-Verlag) was published. It is a contribution against war and for reason and humanity to finally prevail.”

NEW WORLD PARADIGM

India’s Leading Fertilizer Supplier Is Now Russia

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—In another indication of the tectonic shifts underway in the world physical economy, Global NATO’s sanctions policy has led to Russia becoming India’s biggest fertilizer supplier, according to an account in Reuters reported on Nov. 21, citing a government official who said Russian exporters offered “reasonable prices.”

India is heavily dependent on fertilizer imports to produce sufficient food for its 1.393 billion people. Last fiscal year, Russia had about a 6% share of all Indian fertilizer imports. “India was struggling to secure fertilizers at reasonable prices after a conflict escalated between Russia and Ukraine. Russian supplies were timely and at reasonable prices. It helped us to avoid possible scarcity,” a source told Reuters.

Russian exports have grown by over 370% to a record 2.15 million tons from April to October, with India reportedly receiving discounts of over $70 per ton. China had previously been the lead fertilizer exporter to India. From the Russian standpoint, the government official explained, India is now a big buyer to replace European nations that have cut themselves off from Russian supplies.

COLLAPSING WESTERN SYSTEM

EU Claims It Has Fully Replaced Russian Natural Gas Imports

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—At a plenary session of the European Parliament on Nov. 23, EU Energy Commissioner Kadri Simson announced that the European Union has now entirely replaced Russian natural gas imports with LNG and pipeline gas from alternative reliable suppliers. The announcement—a lie both by commission and omission—was a prelude to a debate scheduled for Nov. 24 on a gas price cap proposal meant to prevent stratospheric energy costs for consumers.

In 2021, Russia supplied 155 billion m³ (bcm) of gas to the EU, accounting for some 45% of the EU’s gas imports. This year that is expected to drop to about 60 bcm—but most of that came in the early part of the year, before the sanctions were tightened and before the Nord Stream pipelines were sabotaged in September—most likely by Britain and U.S. — to make sure nothing would flow.

Additionally, the Russian gas had been supplied under long-term contracts at a reasonable price. The LNG which Europe now must buy on the spot market, costs 3, 4, and even 10 times more. This has also frozen most developing sector countries out of the market altogether, since they are unable to compete on price with the wealthier countries.

As for capping the price, CNBC reported candidly that EU countries are split on the matter. Some countries are not happy with the proposed €275/MWh ceiling on natural gas prices, which aims to prevent sky-high costs for consumers. “A price cap at the levels that the [EU] Commission is proposing is not in fact a price cap,” Greek Energy Minister Kostas Skrekas told CNBC. “Nobody can stand buying gas at this expensive price for a long time. We surely believe that the price cap below €200, between €150 and €200 would be more realistic,” he asserted.

Powdered Eggs at $100 a Can? How Did That Happen

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—A crisis in egg production and distribution, which is now hitting the U.S. with full force has been building throughout the year. While in a few locations, like Iowa, which is the largest egg producer in the country, citizens knew how serious the situation was becoming, in the rest of the country a pervasive “wartime censorship” mentality kept the multiple factors causing the problem from being publicized by major news outlets.

Now it can no longer be kept under wraps, that the average price of a dozen eggs is $8, and rising; and in many locations, including farm states, eggs are disappearing from the stores. A reader of EIR in Pierre, South Dakota, reported that the local Walmart did not have a single carton of eggs on its shelves. In the U.K. restaurants are closing down because of the disappearance of eggs. While more and more states are now chasing the effects of avian flu, as it had been spreading in the United Kingdom and other parts of Europe for a longer period.

In the same way the Biden Administration and its adversaries in the anti-vaxxer camp lied to the U.S. public, claiming that COVID had taken its course, and top-down policies (“mandates”) could all be canceled, the same deluded public officials are dragging their feet on presenting the veterinary public-health measures which are required to bring avian flu under control. On Nov. 3, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reported that bird flu outbreaks were spreading: “Since early 2022, more than 49 million birds in 46 states have either died as a result of bird flu ... or have been culled ... due to exposure to infected birds. This number is nearing the 50.5 million birds in 21 states that were affected by the largest bird flu outbreak that occurred in 2015.” The CDC report recommended that bird owners and handlers wash their hands and clothing—hardly a program for victory.

However, avian flu is not the only factor driving the disappearance of this basic food source for protein and other nutrients. It is also the speculative and war-oriented shape of the economy that is yanking food production toward a breakdown, fit to feed only a much smaller population. In May, for example, the federal government had to order Union Pacific Rail to ensure corn feed deliveries to California farmers, whose milk and egg output were threatened by the rail system’s delays. By July, Fowler Farms had to seek a 90-day extension of the order in hopes its production could be kept going. The election campaign was entering its hot phase at the time, leaving the only U.S. media to report on the showdown with speculator Warren Buffet’s rail assets being farm newsletters and some financial sources.

The Biden Administration was definitely using its Ukraine agenda to keep such items out of the press. Now the situation has become so serious that the game is no longer working. Thus, it can be only a matter of time before Americans will be lining up, in a manner reminiscent of World War II rationing, to buy powdered and liquefied eggs, which at this moment are selling for $50 to $100 per container, providing 35 to 70 servings, at Walmart.

U.S. POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC

U.S. Is Working at Refining the Definition of ‘State Sponsor of Terrorism’

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Ukraine’s mad President Volodymyr Zelensky and many U.S. Congress members have been charging that Russia is a terrorist state. The U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for Global Criminal Justice Beth Van Schaack, however, responded to a question about the European Parliament vote explained at a Nov. 22 briefing that Russia does not meet the U.S. definition of “state sponsor of terrorism.” On Nov. 23, the European Parliament adopted a resolution calling Russia a “state sponsor of terrorism,” but Van Schaack responded to a journalist about the projected vote, that the way in which the EU used the term, it does not fit the U.S. definition. She went on to say “we are exploring other potential designations that would achieve the same ends as this European initiative. It’s important to emphasize, though, that we are utilizing our sanctions to an incredible degree, and so it’s not necessary to designate Russia in any particular way.”

The Euro Parliament non-binding resolution was voted up overwhelmingly, alleging evidence free, that “deliberate attacks and atrocities carried out by the Russian Federation against the civilian population of Ukraine, the destruction of civilian infrastructure and other serious violations ... amount to acts of terror against the Ukrainian population and constitute war crimes.” And running out of complaints, the text throws in unproven allegations, including downing of Malaysia’s MH17, poisoning the Skripals and Navalny, bombing a Czech ammunition dump, etc., before requesting a “the EU and its Member States to develop an EU legal framework for the designation of states as sponsors of terrorism relevant legal framework” to target Russia. The resolution also demanded the “international isolation of Russia, including the further reduction of diplomatic relations and ... a new round of sanctions.”

RT quoted Russian Foreign Ministry spokesman Ivan Nechayev telling media Nov. 23: “A number of nations representing the ‘collective West’ use such labels as a ‘terrorist state,’ ‘terrorist regime’ or a ‘state sponsor of terrorism’ to designate those nations [they consider] ‘unwelcome’ and not fitting their warped perceptions of democracy.” Whereas Maria Zakharova wrote in her Telegram account: “I propose to recognize the European Parliament as a sponsor of idiocy.”

Republican Majority in House Grows

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—The Republican Majority in the House of Representatives has now climbed to 220 members. On Nov. 23, California Republican Kevin Kiley defeated Democrat Kermit Jones. On Nov. 19, Colorado Democrat Adam Frisch conceded to the GOP’s Lauren Boebert.

Kevin McCarthy (R-CA), who is expected to become Speaker of the House, has requested the resignation of Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas, due to his poor handling of border crossings from Mexico. He has said that if Mayorkas remains in office, the House will carry out a thorough investigation of the immigration procedures.

Hybrid Warfare Spook Nina Jankowicz Is Now Officially a British Foreign Agent

Nov. 24 (EIRNS)—Breitbart and other right-wing media are all astir, exposing a Nov. 18 filing by Nina Jankowicz, the Ukraine-connected “disinformation expert” who was briefly appointed to head a “Disinformation Governance Board” embedded at the Department of Homeland Security. Jankowicz’s involvement indicated that the Board was intended to function like the Center for Countering Disinformation apparatus in Zelenskyy’s National Security and Defense Council, which operates as a “hit operation” against those who speak out against its war.

In May, 61 Congressional Republicans erupted in opposition to her Board and to Jankowicz’s role, given her well-known attacks on freedom of speech. Soon after they publicized a resolution stating their view, Jankowicz resigned and the plan for the Board was canceled. Bureaucrats and advisors at Homeland Security let it be known, however, that other means would still be found to enforce the same policy.

Jankowicz has now reappeared, having filed with the Justice Department as a “foreign agent” for the Centre for Information Resilience (CIR), based in Great Britain, which identifies itself as “is an independent, non-profit social enterprise dedicated to countering disinformation.” Its website is rife with anti-Russian, anti-Chinese posts. Exemplary is CIR’s “Russia-Ukraine Monitor Map ... a crowdsourced effort by Centre for Information Resilience (CIR) and the wider open source community to map, document and verify significant incidents during the conflict in Ukraine. Its aim is to provide reliable information for policymakers, journalists, and justice and accountability bodies about the evolving situations both on-the-ground and online. Bellingcat, Mnemonic and the [Georgian outfit] Conflict Intelligence Team” also contribute to the map.